++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain in the west, dry, windy and mild in east.

Today:
Rather cloudy with some patchy rain later for western Central. Drier weather in the east and feeling mild again in the east despite the brisk southwesterly winds. Fife is likely to see the best of any cloud breaks. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy rain continuing to affect the west and pushing a little further southeast overnight. Staying dry with the odd clear spell in the east and winds easing. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Outbreaks of rain, with hill snow, for Tayside and Central on Wednesday, drier for Fife. A fresher feel around the coasts in the brisk northeasterly winds in the afternoon. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A lot of drier and brighter weather for the the second part of the week. Feeling colder, with overnight frosts, but largely dry with sunny spells and light winds.
